

The challenge today is to prepare this generation to draw on the accumulated experience of the past in order to deal with the same questions in the new circumstances of the 21st century.

Exposure

to original sources of the most significant documents that have shaped society.

Awaken

an interest and competency in issues of individual liberty and dignity.

Engage

in civil discussion and debate regarding the great ideas of historical minds.

Visit us on our website

The Remnant Trust, Inc.
Texas Tech University
Box 41041 | Lubbock, Texas 79409-1041
T: 806.834.8878 | F: 806.742.0496
www.theremnanttrust.com
info@theremnanttrust.com

THE Remnant Trust
INCORPORATED

THE Remnant Trust

INCORPORATED

is a public educational foundation that shares an actively growing collection of manuscripts, 1st edition and early works dealing with the topics of individual liberty and human dignity with some pieces dating as early as 2500 B.C. The Trust makes this collection available to colleges, universities and other organizations for use by students, faculty, scholars and the general public. Those exposed are encouraged to touch, feel and read the originals, including first English translations. Generally, titles are loaned for a semester or longer to educational institutions that choose specific exhibits that are tailored to each.

Internship opportunities offer an in-depth, hands-on experience.

The Federalist Papers, 1st ed. 1788

Lectures and seminars provide a gate-way to deeper understanding of the concepts and ideas behind the works.

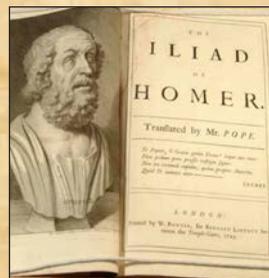

Following along a timeline of liberty and dignity, our collection is comprised of some of the greatest works of man that focuses on the proper function of government, responsibility of citizenship and how we live together in society.

Thomas Hobbes,
De Cive, 1651 1st ed.

Aristotle
Politiques, 1598

Homer
The Illiad
1715-1720
1st ed.

John Locke,
An Essay Concerning Human Understanding, 1695

Notable Works

Magna Carta, Manuscripts, 1350

Sir Isaac Newton, The Mathematical Principles of Natural Philosophy, 1st ed., 1729

Galileo's Dialogues, 1710

Frederick Douglass, My Bondage & My Freedom, 1855

Mary Wollstonecraft, A Vindication of the Rights of Women, 1st ed. 1792

Declaration of Independence, 1776
One of the Three known copies, Dunlop Printing

The Morals of Confucius, 1st ed. 1691

Thomas Paine, Crisis Papers, 1792

King James Bible, "He" Version 1611

Karl Marx, Communist Manifesto, 1848

The Remnant trust seeks to awaken in new generations of learners both an interest and competency in issues of individual liberty and human dignity by collaborating with institutions. The Remnant Trust places on loan a selection of works on the very subjects within which the students are engaged in the classroom, for a first time and perhaps a once in a lifetime experience exposure to originals sources.

Aristotle, Nichomachean Ethics,
Manuscripts 1483

I Enoch, Manuscripts 1450

Original, 1st Ed., Manuscripts, Pamphlets, and Complete Works are part of our collection.

The Remnant Trust invites institutions to prepare and submit a proposal that invites use, student participation, faculty involvement, classroom sharing and public access to the works. We will provide resources for creative use, research, debate, and scholarly papers regarding these works and ideas.